

what's causing the buzz?

A secret world of art and beauty is taking shape, lovingly created for the discerning. Called De'Bunga, it grows out of a breathtakingly simple idea. Semi-detached and bungalow garden homes in exquisite designs, generously laid-out, and spread out against a backdrop of a Monet-inspired garden.

Take a stroll through the gardens, past the softly rippling pools of water and pavilions that float. Feast on terraces of blossoming flowers in myriad colours. Your senses come alive, and you feel at once you have stepped into a painting, and entered another world.
